

Helmut Jungermann

Present Affiliation

Since 1980, Professor for Experimental and Cognitive Psychology at the Technical University Berlin, Institute for Psychology and Ergonomics, and Member of the Center for Man-Machine-Interaction (ZMMS) at the TU Berlin

Career Background

Studied economics, psychology, and mathematics in Berlin, Vienna, Hamburg and Darmstadt

Areas of research are:

- judgment and decision making
- decision analysis and decision aiding systems
- risk perception and risk communication
- air traffic control and aircraft evacuation

Consultant for a number of industrial and governmental institutions

President of the European Association for Decision Making (1995-1997)